

HEWI eLOCK General System Information to Licensor HEWI CL04

Dear Sirs,

Click the icon on your Desktop to start eLOCK Center.

In its delivered state, eLOCK Center is made available as a Demo version for a limited time.

You have 30 days time to find out about the system and to test your application cases.

You can use the [Activate Later] button to use the application without restrictions within the Demo period.

After this period has expired you can only activate eLOCK Center by purchasing and installing the system licence.

To licence the system, click the [Activate manually by entering a code] button. A machine code appears on the screen with which you can request your individual system licence from HEWI. The machine code is made up of your individual machine data (e.g. CPU, hard disk, graphic card, network connection, etc.). The system licence is permanently linked to the machine code, therefore a new system licence must be issued if several PC components are replaced.

In order to be able to issue a new system licence in the future after a change to your machine data (new PC or PC components) we need both; the then new and the presently current machine code.

You should therefore save the now current machine code in the form of a screenshot or by copying it.

If you have any queries regarding the questions below, please contact the Project Manager or the HEWI ES Hotline Tel. +49 (0)5691 82 200 Fax. +49 (0)5691 82 400

A Requesting and Entering the Activation Code

You can request and receive the activation code from the HEWI ES Sales department in the following way:

1	by telephone and/or	+41 (0)5691 82 781 or +41 (0)5691 82 782
2	via E-Mail and/or	mbeck@hewi.de or pkroha@hewi.de
3	by fax	+49 (0)5691 82 154

C Entering the Activation Code

- Please enter the activation code, which you received from HEWI by phone or in writing, in the field: Enter Activation Code and then confirm with the [Activate] button.

D Time licence

- Fittings are supplied with the "Access" scope of functions.

With a time licence the fitting checks and documents the access authorisation with respect to time, weekday and date.

E Installing time licences

1 The user receives the licence file ""eLOCK-TU-700-001.lic" on a DVD directly from HEWI or via the service partner.

The licence file must be saved directly in the HEWI eLOCK directory

F Activating the time licenses

1 To activate the time licences in eLOCK Center, please start the activation dialog under menu sequence:

Extras \ Settings

2 To licence, click the [Activate manually by entering a code] button.

3 A machine code appears on the following screen with which you can request the activation code for the time licences from HEWI. The machine code is made up of your individual machine data (e.g. CPU, hard disk, graphic card, network connection, etc.).

4 Unlike system licensing, the time licence is not permanently coupled with the machine code but is required once only when activating the time licences.

Permanent storage of the machine code is therefore NOT necessary.
